WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Rat Control:

This is the time of year that rats move and establish themselves for winter. While rats are being kept well in check in this district we cannot afford to become careless and everyone must remain on the alert, particularly those within twenty miles of the Saskatchewan border. Anyone in the border area should keep bait in all feed stacks and around granaries so that any rats moving in may be killed off before they become established. Anyone seeing or suspecting rats should report to their Pest Control Officer or Field Supervisor. Poisons for rat control are available free of charge from the Pest Control Officer.

Coyote Control:

Coyotes seem to be quite numerous around the country and some people have reported loss of poultry. A few strychnine pellets or cyanide guns will quickly do away with the trouble makers. Any farmer can use these control measures to protect his livestock so don't take unnecessary losses.

Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics:

If you have been thinking of going to one of the schools this year and haven't put in an application yet you shouldn't wait any longer because applications have been coming in quite fast and the facilities are limited, particularly for boys.

Fall Land Work:

At this time of year it is a good idea to get the cultivator to work on perennial weed patches. Thistle, Toad Flax, etc., should be torn up late in the fall and these odd items when it is too tough to harvest, can be put to good advantage killing weeds.

Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel:
If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by Him doth this man stand here before you whole.
This is the stone which was set up at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.—Acts 4:8-12

Mystery Fire Destroys Jack Veer Farm House

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a house on the Jack Veer farm west of town Thursday afternoon of last week.
At the time of the fire Mrs. Veer was on a trip to the coast and Mr. Veer was away threshing. The blaze was not discovered until it was too late to save the building.
The Irma Volunteer Fire Brigade went out but had to confine its activities to keeping other farm buildings from catching fire.
This house was not the one in which the Veer family lives but unfortunately it contained their deep-freeze, washing machine and other valuable appliances.

Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Pond, who have spent all their married life in Irma, celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary at home with their family on Tuesday evening, September 15.
On Wednesday night their many friends of both town and country gathered in the Legion Hall for an evening of fun and fellowship with Mr. and Mrs. Pond, Jeannette, Lorraine and Dennis.

When the guests of honor arrived Mrs. Whidden began to play the Wedding March and they were escorted by Mrs. M. Enger and Mrs. R. C. McFarland and seated at the top of the room behind a long table which was laid with a white and silver cloth. This was centred by a white and silver wedding cake baked by Mrs. Eldon Fenton and decorated by Mrs. Harry Riley. Tall white tapers and silver vases of sweet peas flanked it on either side.

Rev. H. W. Ingils was M. C. and spoke of the place which Mr. and Mrs. Pond and family have filled in our community and of the pleasure it was to share in their happiness that evening.

A lively "sing-song" was then led by Mrs. Dick McRoberts with Mrs. Whidden at the piano.
Two very good contests were conducted by Mrs. E. Prosser and Mrs. M. Enger.

Gerry Hurst played a saxophone solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hurst.

Carol Mathews gave two piano numbers.

Two vocal duets were sung by Mrs. Ralph Erickson and Mrs. Carl Gulbraa accompanied by Mrs. Erling Nilson.

Two violin solos by Mr. H. C. Nissen, accompanied by Mrs. Nissen.

Two vocal solos by Mrs. R. L. Simmerman.

Then Mrs. M. Enger, Mrs. McFarland, Mrs. Simmerman, Mrs. G. Fischer, Mrs. H. Barber and Mrs. Fahner sang a song especially written for this occasion by Mrs. C. Angquist.

Mrs. Enger spoke of how much she enjoyed being next door neighbor to the Pond family. Then on behalf of the community, presented them with a chest of beautiful silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. Pond and Jeannette each warmly thanked their friends and neighbors and spoke of the many pleasant times they had had over the years with the Irma folk. Then all joined hands and sang heartily, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

This happy occasion was brought to a close with a delicious lunch served by the W.A. ladies and friends.

TURKEY SHOOT
A Turkey Shoot will be held at the home of Mr. J. H. Archibald, 4 mi. north of Irma, on Wednesday, October 7th. 25c

FACTS ON ARTHRITIS

The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society says there are six simple rules the public can adopt to minimize their chances of getting arthritis, the nation's worst crippler.

They are: (1) When you injure a joint, get prompt medical care; (2) Avoid sudden and repeated strain on joints; (3) Warm up muscles before engaging in hard work; (4) Avoid overweight; (5) Avoid excessive exposure to dampness and cold; (6) Avoid tension and anxiety.

You can't be sure of avoiding arthritis by adopting these rules, says the Society, but you can lessen the risk. Besides, all six rules are good ones to follow in the interests of general good health. The CARS supports a nation-wide program of research designed to find, eventually, both causes and cures of this ancient malady.

Ontario studies Man. land titles

Operations of a Manitoba land titles set-up, widely recognized across Canada for its high standard, has just been studied by the director of titles for the province of Ontario, W. Marsh Magwood, Q.C.

Hon. Sterling Lyon, attorney-general, said that Mr. Magwood, the author of a book on the Ontario land titles system, was particularly interested in the surveys set-up here, and in the close supervision given to sub-division plans.

The registrar-general for the province of Manitoba, Harold McKay, explained that as a result of thorough surveys, supervision, it was almost unheard-of to have a boundaries dispute in Manitoba, or to have titles overlapping.

He said the accepted practice in Manitoba has been to allow a margin of error of no more than one foot in 20,000 in city areas, one foot in 10,000 in other urban areas, and one foot in 5,000 in rural areas. In most jurisdictions, the accepted margin of error is one foot in 5,000 for the whole province.

In 1958, Ontario passed the Certification of Titles Act, dealing specifically with urban sub-divisions. Mr. Magwood is studying land titles operations in the west in the light of this act.

CHAMPION STYLIST

Lucille Wheeler, world champion skier from St. Jovite, Que., is now working as a styling consultant for a Canadian skiwear manufacturer.

She thinks that Canadian ski clothes could become world famous. "Our Eskimos, French Canadians and Indians wear many beautiful things which are perfect for adaptation to skiwear and would be unique abroad."

Miss Wheeler says Canadian ski clothes have improved greatly in the last few years. One time it was a form of inverted snobbery for a skier to dress sloppily, she explained. Skiing skill is no longer measured by "very often small but one's appearance. Now amateurs as well as experts aim to look sharp."

Miss Wheeler feels that stretch pants did the most to streamline skiers. Her new job will include advising on the functional aspects of skiwear styles as well as their smartness. "Very often small but fashionable details can be an annoyance" to the skier. Knitted collars on parkas are frequently too high, for instance.

"Ski pants should never have pockets but jackets should have lots of them," according to Miss Wheeler, and she feels much can be done to improve the quilted jackets now becoming popular.

Her opinions are reflected in the new styles being prepared by her employer. A more streamlined quilted parka with a convertible hood is one item. Knitted sweaters and hats and knitted ski masks are others.

Miss Wheeler's own favorite skiing outfit is a heavy knit sweater, worn over a T-shirt and with stretch pants.

SITTING CAREER

Many girls and women find baby-sitting a suitable way of making a fairly steady income. Talking care of other people's children has its responsibilities, and the sitter should be prepared to cope with emergencies. She should always have the phone number where she may reach the parents. The numbers of police and fire departments should also be handy to the telephone, and the phone number of the children's doctor should be given to the sitter, since youngsters could become suddenly ill or meet with a mishap. If there is a friendly neighbor, the sitter should have her phone number too, to be used in case of need.

THREE FIRST PRIZES and the silver trophy for highest scoring egg display at the 1959 Canadian national exhibition was won by Mr. and Mrs. August Schiller, Zenith poultry farm, Regina, Sask. They are shown in the processing room where eggs were packed that brought the awards to western Canada.

National egg trophy comes to Saskatchewan

The silver trophy for the highest scoring egg display at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, has been brought to western Canada for the first time in recent years. Mr. and Mrs. August Schiller of the Zenith poultry farm four miles east of Regina received by E. M. Campbell, poultry commissioner for the Saskatchewan department of Agriculture.

Saskatchewan entries captured 10 firsts and two second prizes in the Canada-wide competition. With a total of 14 entries, this means that more than 71 per cent Saskatchewan entries took first place awards, which compares to 45 per cent for Manitoba, 36 per cent for Ontario, and 17 per cent for Alberta.

"This is a remarkable achievement," said Mr. Campbell, "in the light of a recent survey which showed that 50 per cent of Saskatchewan eggs are below normal."

"It also points out," he continued, "that quality eggs are being produced right in the midst of this sub-standard performance of the poultry industry. Such quality production should receive some recognition besides award winning outside the province."

"This might be accomplished by the quality egg program now being developed by the department," continued Mr. Campbell. "Under this program producers who have the necessary facilities to produce high quality eggs would be registered. A quality seal used on the carton would identify their product."

This would provide a "continuous award" to careful producers, he said, and should inspire producers to improve their management in order to qualify under the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Schiller who work as a team, and who have been in the poultry business for only one and a half years, have twice won first prizes at the Canadian National Exhibition, and now the recent distinction of the silver trophy.

"We took over the 2,800 leg-horn poultry farm because what

Athlete's foot not limited to athletes

Athlete's foot is certainly not confined to any one group of people, but is a widespread skin infection occurring throughout the world, particularly in the hot and in the temperate regions, according to an article in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

The article, which was written by Drs. Gibson E. Craig, and F. Blank, points out that epidermophytosis, the medical name for athlete's foot, is not even restricted to the feet, but may affect any part of the smooth skin.

Fungi thrive best in warm and moist environment. It is no surprise, then, that athlete's foot most often starts between the fourth and fifth toe, where moisture and heat produce softening and macerating of the skin. These conditions not only create an ideal climate for the growth of the fungi, but also allow the entrance of bacteria.

The early symptoms of athlete's foot are only burning and itching. People who have normally cool feet can develop athlete's foot in a few days by wearing socks and shoes which produce sweating. During the past two decades, drugs have been discovered for the successful treatment of the worst bacterial infections of man. Unfortunately, little progress has been made in finding specific remedies for the treatment of fungus infections.

Here are a few simple rules for prevention of athlete's foot:

1. The feet should be washed frequently and dried with care, particularly between the toes.
2. Dusting powder used after the bath will help to prevent maceration.
3. Loose or open weave shoes are valuable for those who perspire heavily or are on their feet for long periods, especially during the hot weather.

It is not wise to use strong remedies on feet which are suspected of being infected by fungi. Most serious cases are produced by over treatment, especially if there is a secondary infection due to bacteria.

The article concludes by stating that medical advice will often reduce treatment time and suffering.

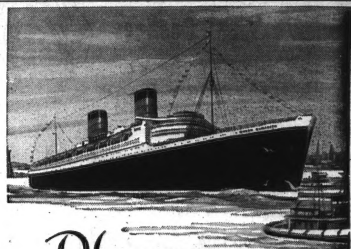

Air is one-fifth oxygen.
